JEWELRY STORE ROBBED.

Yeggmen leisurely cleaned out the jewelry store of Oscar C. Jackie, at 866 Third avenue, New York, early yesterday morning, packed $20,000 worth of watches, diamond pins and brooches into a pair of Jackie's suit cases, grabbed $5,000 in bills and made their getaway over the back fence. Probably they took advantage of a fire in Fifty-ninth street, not far from Third avenue, which drew the police of the district away from their posts and gave them plenty of time to pick and choose from Jackie's stock.

In other ways the yeggs displayed cunning and forethought, carefully planning the burglary, familiarizing themselves with the lay of the old store, turning a difficult piece of work into the simplest kind of a job, withdrawing without leaving behind any clues of value and altogether providing the detectives with a problem as neat and puzzling as any which has occurred in the talents of General Bingham's chief catchers for several years.

After getting into the rear yard behind the store the thieves, with a powerful jack, twisted off 12 steel bars an inch in diameter, which barred the way to the cellar of the house. Once in the cellar the men picked out a spot in the rear of the store and with an auger made a hole through the floor two feet square with the aid of a small saw.

First the burglars tried to drill a hole through the four-inch steel door of the safe, but gave this up after they had penetrated half an inch. Finding it impossible to bore through the steel door in the time they had, the men dropped their drills and with cold chisels bent their efforts on the dial of the combination. They pried and chiseled until they had got the face off the lock and then with strong implements forced the rest of the combination lock through into the safe.

In the safe the men found $20,000 worth of jewelry, all of it in small articles, and no piece worth more than $500. This they packed away in suit cases which belonged in the store. The thieves also took along $5,000 in cash, the proceeds of the Christmas shopping, and which the proprietor had left until yesterday morning to deposit in bank. The stolen jewelry consists of watches, brooches, rings, fobs, chains, etc.

For Eczema, Tetter and Salt Rheum. The intense itching characteristic of these ailments is almost instantly allayed by Chamberlain's Salve. Many severe cases have been cured by it. For sale by W. F. Creighton & Co., and Richard G. Brown.

READY TO DENOUNCE SPEAKER.

"Any man who would make such a criticism instead of calling for my resignation is a coward." The speaker was Rev. Dr. Thomas Oleggett, minister, a Baptist divine, widely known in Maryland and the District of Columbia, where he has held charge, and at present pastor of the First Baptist Church of Rockville.

At Sunday night's service in the church Dr. Sklar stood in his pulpit and with great earnestness read a current rumor was to the effect that members of his flock had expressed disapproval of a sermon preached by him some weeks ago in which he denounced the whisky traffic.

"If my preaching does not suit the members of this church," he said, "they can have my resignation right now or any time in the future if they will only express their disapproval of my remarks to me."

The minister said he did not believe any member of his church had criticized his course, but declared he would continue to speak his convictions and that if he had a million votes he would cast every one of them against whisky next Wednesday in the local option election.

"If I can't preach what I believe I will quit," concluded the minister. The remarks created a mild sensation.

At the same church Field Secretary J. D. McAllister, of the anti-saloon league of Virginia, made an address on prohibition, but refrained from criticizing Mayor Outchin, as he had done on two occasions during the day. Mayor Outchin was present and sat near the pulpit, having declared that should Mr. McAllister attack him unjustly he would rise in his seat and denounce the speaker.

Interest in the election is intense. The large torchlight procession of "drys," has been set for tonight. The "wets" held a big mass-meeting in the Academy of Music last night. Speeches were made by leading business and professional men.

Among the speakers in advocacy of the saloon at the big mass-meeting of the wets in the Academy of Music last night was Mayor Outchin.
